

STORIES

A customer called me an illiterate refugee and told me to go back to my country.

STORIES

The manager has a favourite "Star team" that always gets the best tables to serve.

STORIES

My boss tells me to clean the toilets after work, although it is not in my contract.

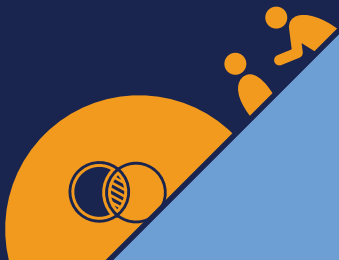

STORIES

The senior waiters are teasing the new workers when they are already on time pressure.

STORIES

A bartender is occasionally taking things from the bar.

STORIES

Colleagues are spreading rumours that I won the receptionist job because of my special relationship with the owner.

STORIES

My two colleagues have been friends for years. Every time I ask them something work related they answer abruptly and vaguely.

STORIES

Hostel guests are making too much noise at night, but the receptionist is the only staff member present and is afraid to intervene.

STORIES

Two employees are hired. The man has a lower level of education than the woman. The woman is assigned to a lower-skilled job.

STORIES

Co-workers ignore their colleague and don't invite him to group activities, because he had a lunch with the manager.

STORIES

A waiter is not allowed to take part in the restaurant commercial, because of their weight.

STORIES

A cafe only hires young and conventionally attractive female workers.

STORIES

The tea-room owner asks all female employees to wear a dress or skirt.

STORIES

The three senior bartenders always get to work the busiest nights making more money than the rest.

STORIES

A customer keeps asking me for my phone number although I have repeatedly said no.

STORIES

A customer keeps coming to the bar every night I have a shift, always sitting at the bar and watching me.

STORIES

After the shift the manager is drunk and begins smoking inside the restaurant which is strictly forbidden.

STORIES

The owner of the bar asks the bartenders to stay at work late, because he and his friends are having a private party.

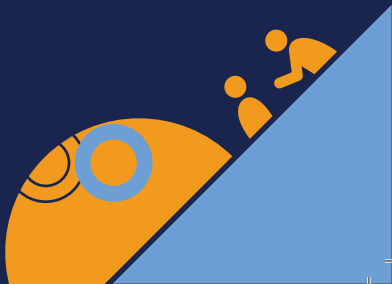

STORIES

The client is a friend of the restaurant owner and asks to be served before other guests.

STORIES

A group of clients are filming and mocking the cleaning lady.

STORIES

Co-workers repeatedly ask the manager to fire a new colleague, because she "talks too much".

STORIES

On each shift there are only barely enough waiters to manage the responsibilities.

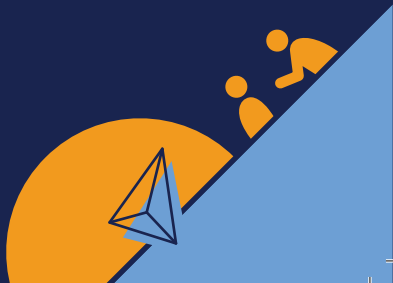

STORIES

A colleague's substance abuse problem intervenes with her work responsibilities. Others cover for her.

STORIES

A co-worker is always criticizing my ideas and suggestions during team meetings.

STORIES

The hotel staff suspect a guest is paying women for sex, but are not allowed to intervene.

STORIES

Client seemingly by accident strokes waiter's hand on multiple occasions

STORIES

The hotel staff is discouraged from calling the police during incidents involving guests.

STORIES

Manager frequently gives the workers compliments about their appearance.

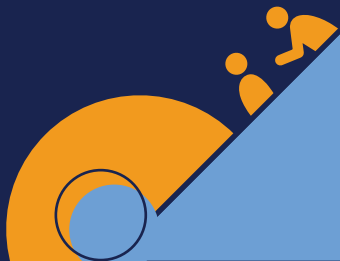

STORIES

The restaurant pays less than minimum wage to their waiters, pressuring them to earn their wages in tips.

STORIES

The sous chef tells the kitchen staff to rewrite product expiration dates so they can be used longer.

STORIES

Bartender sells alcohol to young clients without checking their IDs.

STORIES

A waitress is asked to come to the owner's office after the night shift without giving a particular reason.

STORIES

Bartenders are constantly teasing their co-worker, who doesn't drink alcohol for mental health reasons.

STORIES

The waiters are asked to lie to the tax inspector.

STORIES

A co-worker is always telling detailed stories of his romantic and sexual experiences.

STORIES

A group of clients stop in the drive-through every weekend and make fun of the person working the counter.

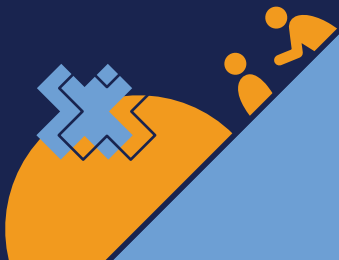

STORIES

A client always asks to be served by a particular waiter and leaves the waiter huge tips.

STORIES

Staff members suspect a hotel guest is being assaulted by her partner. She asks them not to call the police.

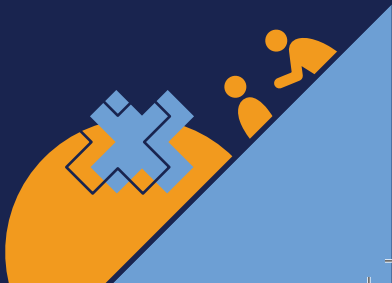

STORIES

Manager gives a waitress uniform that is too small for her making her feel uncomfortable and exposed.

STORIES

The owner's friends repeatedly ask the bartender to party with them.

STORIES

A bartender feels sick and intoxicated after drinking a glass of juice.

STORIES

A colleague gives free meals to a homeless man.

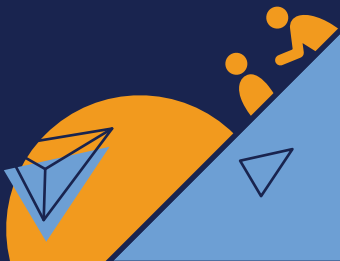

STORIES

A colleague always rushes forward to serve the biggest tippers.

STORIES

The waiters are asked to escort drunk clients to the taxi.

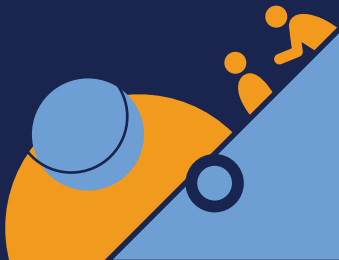

STORIES

When room service arrives, the guest is naked.

STORIES

The hotel staff is asked to move heavy furniture

STORIES

The waitresses are forbidden to loudly object when clients touch them inappropriately

STORIES

The waiters must serve every table even if the clients show verbally or sexually predatory behavior.

STORIES

A customer gave a huge tip to a bartender, and after the shift forcefully held and kissed her.

STORIES

Colleagues who smoke have multiple cigarette breaks, while non-smokers don't have any.

STORIES

While ordering food, the client keeps telling sexually charged and sexist jokes

STORIES

The management insists that the waiters must always smile, when serving guests

STORIES

The person working the counter is not allowed to keep their water bottle near.

STORIES

The workload is so big,
that the waiters
sometimes work six hours without a toilet break

STORIES

The manager can call anytime during off days and ask to come to work, because someone has fallen ill.

STORIES

In our restaurant being touched by clients is considered part of the job.

STORIES

Clients often use the phrase "I know the owner!" when being asked to stop breaking the rules.

STORIES

Colleagues keep joking about their co-workers sexuality.

STORIES

A group of drunken hotel guests offer the staff member a big tip to join them.

STORIES

A frequent guest regularly comes up with excuses to have the receptionist come to his room late at night.

STORIES

The hotel doesn't have a security team and the staff members have to deal with problem situations by themselves.

